Living in Turkey

What is the cost of living in Turkey?

Turkey's low cost of living and high purchasing power, as reflected by indicators like the Big Mac Index, make it an attractive destination for international students. The country offers both affordable living and quality education, giving students economic advantages over studying in more developed nations.

One of the main reasons for the low cost of living is the high purchasing power of the dollar in Turkey. Turkey has a low price level due to the impact of the exchange rate, which significantly reduces international students' basic expenses such as rent, transport and food.

Turkey offers a more affordable cost of living, where students can maintain a comfortable lifestyle for USD 300-500 per month. This makes Turkey an attractive option for international students seeking quality education at a lower cost compared to many other countries.

According to the latest OECD data, Türkiye's homicide rate is 1, lower than the OECD average of 2.6.

Work Permit in Turkey for International Students

Undergraduate students can obtain a work permit after the first year, provided that they do not exceed 24 hours per week. There is no restriction for postgraduate students. Students who wish to obtain a work permit must apply to the Ministry of Labour and Social Security.

Many universities in Turkey do not require Turkish or English language proficiency for admission. You can start your academic journey without worrying about language tests in advance.

Language Proficiency for University Registration

Turkish Proficiency

- Yunus Emre Institute Turkish Proficiency Exam (TYS)
C1 level is generally expected for Turkish proficiency. However, this may vary depending on the university.

No Need to Know Language Before Arrival!

English Proficiency

- TOEFL (Test of English as a Foreign Language)
Most universities require a score between 80 and 100 for international programs.
- YDS (Foreign Language Proficiency Exam)
Conducted by ÖSYM, YDS is accepted for graduate studies and by some universities as a language proficiency exam.

TOEFL IBT, YDS (Foreign Language Proficiency Test), YÖKDİL (Higher Education Institutions Foreign Language Examination), PTE Academic (Pearson Test of English), CPE (Cambridge English: Proficiency) and CAE (Cambridge English: Advanced) are among the official language certificates accepted by students wishing to study in English at universities in Turkey.

While language courses at private universities usually cost full price, language courses at state universities are more affordable, with fees ranging from $150 to $250 per course.

At the beginning of the academic year, students take a language proficiency exam administered by the university. Students who pass the exam begin their academic programme immediately, while those who fail must attend language classes offered by the university.

What is TR-YOS

It is a central examination organised for international students who wish to study at universities in Turkey. This exam is designed to assess the academic qualifications of foreign applicants seeking admission to many universities in Turkey. TR-YÖS was initiated by the Council of Higher Education (YÖK) in 2023 and is a standardised exam for universities valid throughout Turkey.

Examination Content and Format

TR-YOS is an exam consisting of 80 questions that measure general ability and basic mathematical skills. In this exam, which lasts 100 minutes for each candidate, the mathematics and general aptitude questions test students' analytical thinking and problem-solving skills. The score of the exam is calculated using a coefficient of 0.55 for each maths question and 0.45 for each general ability question. Wrong answers in the exam can also affect the correct answers, so it is important to be careful.

Examination Fees and Results

TR-YOS examination fees vary depending on the university and examination centre chosen. There are different fees for domestic and foreign centres and these fees generally vary between 150 ₺ and 1200 ₺.

Turkey is an exciting destination for international students with its historical richness, modern cities and dynamic lifestyle. Situated in a unique geographical location, this country offers unforgettable experiences both academically and culturally. Let's look at the details of living in Turkey together!

Public Transport Options

Public transport in Turkey is well developed in major cities. You can easily get around the city by metro, tram, bus, metrobus and minibus. Sea transport also plays an important role in cities such as Istanbul; you can travel between the Asian and European continents by ferry. For intercity travel, high-speed train projects, modern bus terminals and nearly 60 airports across the country make it easy to get where you want to go.

Turkey has a diverse climate with different geographical regions, with varying rainfall and seasonal conditions throughout the year. This diversity makes Turkey attractive to international students, both academically and as a natural experience.

Black Sea Region

Located in the north of Turkey, the Black Sea coast is a region that receives abundant rainfall throughout the year. The average annual rainfall varies between 1000-2500 mm. The Black Sea climate is characterised by heavy rainfall, especially in autumn and winter, which preserves green forests and rich vegetation.

Marmara Region

The Marmara Region, which includes Istanbul and the surrounding area, has a temperate climate. The average annual rainfall is between 500-1000 mm and the rainfall is intense, especially in autumn and winter. While summers are hot and dry, the winter months are cooler and rainy.
